Dear Supporter of The Museum of Teaching and Learning,

As we journey through this new academic year we have installed our first exhibit and announced a new membership structure through the website, motal.org/ Our advisory committee has approved a basic one-year membership for all previous contributors. Therefore, you are receiving a membership card, a pin, an invitation to our first exhibit and to the first fundraiser, and a newsletter.

Invitation #1 – Please visit the first exhibit, “Horace Mann: Uncommon Man for the Common Good.” You will find it in the lobby of the College of Education at California State University, Long Beach, daily M-F from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.--or by special request. It has been described in several articles, including one at this website for the university: See the enclosure.

Invitation #2 – Our first grand gala fundraiser is being planned for the second Saturday in March. Please save the date. The committee members will be sending you a formal invitation. More importantly, volunteers will be needed to make arrangements and help seek contributions to the big silent auction.

Please encourage your friends and acquaintances to join the MOTAL effort. We are in the process of writing proposals and getting the word out, but we need:

MEMBERS – see the enclosed sheet for levels. The website has credit card capability and the address for mailed contributions is at the end.

VOLUNTEERS – Our first volunteer workshop will be held at 1925 Skyline Drive in Fullerton on Saturday afternoon November 18, 2006 from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Dress casually. All materials will be provided for our email campaign. Bring a laptop if you have one, please.

IDEAS – We always need them. Email nagel@csulb.edu/

CONTRIBUTIONS – of funds, artifacts, and attractive items for the silent auction.

And, of course, we need YOU. Thanks so much!
